DEMOCRATS WIN.
Little Rock, Ark., Sept. 1.—Today's gubernatorial election passed off quietly. Returns up to midnight from twenty five of the seventy five counties in the state indicate that the victory of the Democratic ticket is complete.

Only one county so far heard from is in doubt, Davis, Democrat, for governor, sweeping the other 24 counties by a large majority.

The Republicans had two nominees for governor in the field, Myers and Greenlee, and indications are that the latter is leading his opponent.

Kimball, the prohibition candidate, endorsed by the populists, received a very light vote.

The feature of the election is the extremely light vote which has been polled throughout the state.

Mrs. Rebecca Fast, of Barbourville, W. Va., died from the effects of eating twelve large cucumbers.

Over 100 men are overcome daily by the gas in the Beaumont oil fields and the situation is alarming.

Fifteen prisoners attempted to escape from the Jail at Bedford, Ind. Only two succeeded in getting away.

Mrs. Witmer, of Coffeyville, Kansas, is a grandmother at the age of 83.

HAND CAUGHT BY MR. BRYAN.

Cincinnati Enquirer: Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 2.—Service as peace-makers at a local park late yesterday afternoon brought W. J. Bryan and a party of union laboring men into close straits with a revolver and a large, ugly knife. By some quick shifts and nimble twists Bryan, with the aid of his party, succeeded in downing the drunken giant who threatened them, and, after disarming him, projected him outside the park. Mr. Bryan admitted to day that they had had trouble with a drunken man, who was beating a fallen foe, but he refused to discuss the subject.

It happened just after the delivery of Bryan's speech. In company with three members of the Central Labor Union, he was going to the gate and to town. When not far from the exit they came upon two drunken men.

They were settling differences with their fists in brutal pugilistic style. The heavier man was getting the better of it as the party hove into view. He was on top of his foe and churning his head in a mud puddle, alternating with sounding thumps of his fist. For the sake of fair play, if not for peace, Mr. Bryan and his escorts wrenched the upper man away. He was a stranger, and a most unwelcome intruder into the grounds. Drawing back, he hauled a knife and revolver from his pocket.

While he was threatening death to his disturbers they sprang upon him. Mr. Bryan grasped him by one wrist before he could bring his weapon to bear, and Messrs. Hoskins and Burke and a bricklayer grasped his other arm.

The stranger was at least six feet tall, brawny and swarthy, with just enough liquor in him to enhance strength and fury. In the struggle that followed he proved a tough proposition. Mr. Bryan has not shaken hands for nothing the past six years. He had a grip that would not loosen, and he clung to the man's wrist until he had him overpowered.

The affair was not reported to the police, and no effort was made to arrest the brawler. A persistent attempt was made instead by the cooler leaders to hush the matter up, and the details did not leak out until today. The laboring men very much regret the incident.

MR. BRYAN'S PAPER.
How will Knox handle the axe-handle trust?

What Mr. Roosevelt seems to need is talkless cabinet officers.

The beef trust hasn't said a word calculated to arouse the enmity of Mr. Knox.

A genuine democratic platform needs no diagram and explanatory foot notes.

Perhaps those Iowa Republicans meant tariff perversion instead of tariff revision.

The gentleman who imagines that Democracy needs reorganizing should consult an alienist.

The Republican leaders appear to be working several of the McKinley policies in the reverse motion.

The Republican campaign text book has been dry docked for the purpose of repairing some of its plates.

It seems about time that the "infant" industries be stopped in their practice of assimilating the whole bill of fare.

The beef trust is so frightened by the president's prosecution that it is about to resolve itself into a still larger trust.

It is reported that Justice Shiras is soon to resign from the supreme bench and resume the practice of law. We trust that the eminent judge will not act towards his clients as he did towards the income tax. A lawyer cannot be on both sides of a case at one and the same time.

The attempt to republicize the democratic party will be a failure so long as democrats stand on guard and do their duty.

Senator Hanna and President both declare that they are friends of the working classes, but "pretty is as pretty does."

When reading of the huge "net earnings" of the railroads remember that the farmers and merchants who pay the freight were caught in the net.

The Fairbanks presidential boom seems to have paused for the purpose of trying to ascertain who dropped the monkeywrench into its steering gear.

If a lot of republican statesmen would vote to relieve labor of unjust burdens the aforesaid statesmen would not have to offer their services as arbitrators.

What evidence have we that the President regards a cabinet office as a public trust? Answer: The President compels the holder of the office to defend the trusts.

The soulless trusts will not be satisfied until they learn how to utilize the energy that babies waste in playing about the floor and cooing in their mother's arms.

When a cabinet officer defends a trust he ought to state how much that particular trust contributed to the campaign fund. The mutuality of the transaction would then be understood.

The 10,000 employees let out by the formation of the harvester trust might probably employ their time for the next week or two recalling the siren song of the "let well enough alone" vocalists in 1900.

The officers of a labor union have been jailed for contempt because they refused to bring the union's books into court when ordered to do so. The meat trust officials refused to obey a similar order, but up to date no meat trust officials have been sent to jail.

Kingston Courier: y large Jersey peach, with a letter securely hidden within the stone, was discovered here among a lot of fine peaches sent in from Rocky Hill. The letter is of a decidedly interesting nature, and, being found in the peach given by Caterer J. B. Renwick to A. W. J. Montgomery, a Princeton student, some little romance may result, as the finder of the epistle has expressed his intention of trying to discover who the maiden is that wrote the letter. The letter reads as follows: "This peach grew on my father's farm at Little Rocky Hill. His name is Mr. Jod Hunt, and my name is Miss Caroline Hunt. My address is Kingston, N. J. Whoever eats this peach, please write to me and tell me how it tastes. I hope a nice looking man eats it, and I hope that he is single and that I may see him some day. August 20th, 1902."

BOB TAYLOR ON INGERSOLL.
"I sat in a great theater at the national capital. It was thronged with youth and beauty, old age and wisdom. I saw a man, the image of his God stand upon the stage and I heard him speak."

"His gestures were perfection of grace, his voice was music and his language was more beautiful than any I had ever heard from mortal lips."

"He painted picture after picture of the pleasures and joys and sympathies of home. He enthroned love and preached the gospel of humanity like an angel. Then I saw him dip his brush in the ink of moral blackness and blot out the beautiful pictures he had painted. I saw him stab love dead at his feet. I saw him blot the stars and the sun and leave humanity and the earth in eternal darkness and eternal death."

"I saw him like the serpent of old, worm himself into the paradise of human hearts and by his seductive eloquence and subtle devices, of sophistry inject his fatal venom, under whose blight, its flowers faded, its music was hushed, its sunshine was darkened and its soul was left a desert waste with the new made graves of faith and hope."

"I saw him, like a lawless and erratic meteor without an orbit, sweep across the intellectual sky, brilliant only in its self-consuming fire generated by friction with the indestructible and eternal truths of God."

"That man was the archangel of modern infidelity, and I said, how true is Holy Writ which declared, the fool has said in his heart, there is no God."

"Tell me not 'oh, Infidel, there is no God, no heaven, no hell! Tell me not, oh, Infidel, there is no risen Christ!'"

"What intelligence less than God's could fashion in the human body? What motive power is it if not God, that drives these throbbing engines of the human heart, sending the crimson stream of life bounding through every vein and artery."

"Whence and what, if not of God, is this mystery we call mind? What is it that thinks and feels and knows and acts? Oh, who can deny the Divinity that stirs within us?"

"God is everywhere and is everything. His mystery is in every bud and blossom and leaf and tree; in every rock and hill and vale and mountain, in every spring and rivulet and river; in every zephyr; its might is in every tempest. He dwells in the dark pavilion of every storm cloud. The lightning is His messenger and thunder is His voice. His awful tread is in every earthquake and on every angry ocean. The Heavens above us teem with His myriads of shining witnesses. The universe of solar systems whose wheeling orbs course the crystal dread halls of eternity, the glory and power and dominion of the all wise, omnipotent and eternal God."

WHAT THE DOCTOR SAYS.
Onions are a preventative and oftentimes a cure for malarial fever.

Don't moisten your food with the idea of saving your teeth. It spoils the teeth and you will soon lose them.

Don't keep the sun out of your living and sleeping rooms. Sunlight is absolutely necessary for a right condition of the atmosphere that we breathe and for our bodily wellbeing.

It is a mistake to suppose that good candy will hurt children. If given to them just after meals and in reasonable quantities, it is a decided benefit. Children need sugar for head and easily digested nourishment and pure candy is a convenient means of giving it to them. Dr. Fothergill, a distinguished London hospital surgeon, has said that molasses taffy, containing both sugar and grease, was an ideal preventative for children of a consumptive tendency.

I have a seven year old cow for sale. Will be fresh about October 1st.
